

CALL FOR PAPERS AND PARTICIPATION

The 30th Asian Finance Association Annual Meeting

June 25 - 27, 2018

Hitotshubashi Hall, Tokyo, Japan

Asian Finance Association (AsianFA) cordially invites submission of research papers in all areas in finance to the Association's 2018 annual conference. Nippon Finance Association will host the conference. The AsianFA annual conference provides an open platform for finance scholars and practitioners worldwide to meet and share their recent research and exchange ideas and information on new developments in finance research. We look forward to a high-quality conference. The majority of the sessions will include papers selected through open competition. The papers will be double blind-reviewed by a committee of established researchers. The conference will also organize the doctoral student consortium.

ABOUT TOKYO:

Tokyo is the capital and largest metropolis in Japan, where modern and historical buildings co-exist. With a population over 13 million, Tokyo is one of the largest financial centers in East Asia. The mixture of modern, traditional, and unique cultures has attracted many foreign tourists especially since Tokyo was designated to host the 2020 Summer Olympics and Paralympics. Tokyo is also one of the highest rank cities in the world for economic power, living comfortability, safety, and the number of Michelin stars.

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS:

Professor John Y. Campbell, Morton L. and Carole S. Olshan Professor of Economics, Faculty of Arts and Sciences, Harvard University

Professor Alexander Ljungqvist, Ira Rennert Professor of Finance, Stern School of Business, New York University

CONFERENCE THEME:

Papers in all areas of finance are welcome, including but not limited to asset pricing, corporate finance, corporate governance, derivative, financial crisis, financial intermediation, international finance, sustainable finance and market microstructure. Accepted papers are eligible for several categories of best paper awards as shown below, which will be selected by various Award Committees.

DOCTORAL STUDENT CONSORTIUM:

Doctoral students are also welcome to present their dissertations in a session at the doctoral student consortium (DSC) which will be led by leading scholars. DSC session on asset pricing will be coordinated by Professor Sunil Wahal (Arizona State University), and the moderator of DSC session on corporate finance will be announced soon. Two best dissertation awards of US$1,000 will be given to the best thesis in asset pricing and corporate finance/banking, respectively. If you wish to present in DSC, please indicate it in the text box popping up when you start submission process as well as your research field (asset pricing or corporate finance).

BEST PAPER AWARDS:

The conference will offer multiple categories of best paper awards. These awards include:

- Four Elsevier and Pacific-Basin Finance Journal Sponsored Best Paper Awards (USD1000 each)
- Two best paper awards sponsored by the Asian Finance Association (USD1000 each)
